FINANCIAL PEACE UNIVERSITY

A free, online personal finance class for Denver Seminary alumni

Denver Seminary has partnered with Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University (FPU) to offer the course for free to the first 20 alumni who register. This personal finance class aids participants in paying off debt, budgeting expenses, building savings, and giving generously. All participants (and the class facilitator!) will be Denver Seminary alumni. For more information and to register, click below.

Upcoming Events

Brokenhood: The Art of Healing Through Community

Join Justin Reddick, seminarian-turned prison art facilitator, as he explores the impact of art inside the Federal Prison Complex. Using the exhibit Brokenhood: The Art of Healing Through Community as a foundation, Reddick will discuss the Creative Arts Platform, produce a live painting, auction off art, and more. Guests are also invited to spend time in the Seminary's Bridge Gallery, viewing art created by ADX Supermax inmates, as well as art created by Reddick and his colleagues. Inmate art and art created by CAP facilitators will be available for purchase.

Date: March 12, 2020

Time: 7:00 PM - 9:00 PM (gallery opens at 6:30)

Location: Denver Seminary Bridge Gallery

This event is free and open to the public.

Engage360 Podcast | Episode 26: Part 1 - Theological Approaches to Suffering and Happiness

First up in our 3-part series on suffering and happiness is K.J. Ramsey, a Denver Seminary alumna, therapist, and author of the forthcoming book This Too Shall Last. She explores how we can trust others and the church with our stories of suffering as she offers wisdom from her own difficult path toward healing. K.J. shares how God's grace has become embodied and relational in her life through physical pain and transformative communion with fellow believers in Christ.

Listen at denverseminary.edu/podcast or find us on Apple Podcasts, Spotify, and Google Play. Parts 2 and 3 in our series continue with Dr. Doug Groothuis and Dr. Knut Heim.

Are You Ready to Begin Your Doctor of Ministry Degree?

The Denver Seminary DMin spring semester begins April 13 (the one-week seminar for each course is in July) with courses in leadership, spiritual formation, and pastoral skills. Not sure that a DMin is right for you? Take a DMin course as a non-degree student and find out.

To receive course and program information email (dmin@denverseminary.edu) or call (303-762-6918) prior to April 1.

Already Sanctified: A Theology of the Christian Life in Light of God's Completed Work

by Don Payne

How does the doctrine of sanctification shape the Christian life? Offering a fully developed treatment of "accomplished" sanctification, Don Payne explains that the primary biblical focus in sanctification is not progressive growth but that which has already occurred for Christians to make growth possible, necessary, and grace-driven. As Payne explores the significance Scripture attributes to the accomplished aspect of sanctification, he helps us understand that we are already sanctified. Sanctification is not synonymous with transformation but undergirds strategies and resources related to Christian discipleship and formation.
