2023 Judge Shannon Preaching Lectureship and Seminar

Save the date! This year's Judge Shannon Preaching Lectureship and Seminar will be held June 5–8, 2023 at Denver Seminary. Registration link to come.

The Denver Seminary Shannon Preaching Lectureship and Seminar is a three and a half-day event designed to promote Big Idea Expository Preaching of a biblical book from either the Old or New Testament.

For 2023, we have the privilege of studying the book of Hebrews under the expert tutelage of Dr. Douglas Moo of Wheaton College. Dr. Moo will provide an overview of the book and exegete ten select passages. Experienced preachers Drs. Steve Mathewson and Scott Wenig will then facilitate group discussion among the participants to discern how these texts might be preached.

By the end of the seminar on June 8, each participant will have the foundation of a sermon series on Hebrews that can be preached in his/her local context sometime over the coming year. The cost for this seminar is $150.00 for local pastors and other interested participants such as faculty and staff. For more information, please contact Dr. Scott Wenig at scott.wenig@denverseminary.edu.

You may also support the lectureship financially by giving today!

UPCOMING EVENTS

Compelling and Credible Witness: The Church and Immigration

Christians are under specific biblical instructions regarding “foreigners” and “neighbors.” Yet, as a country of immigrants, our history of policy and current rhetoric can be confusing.

Are immigrants criminals, and do certain immigration policies pose a threat to national security? How is immigration in the US affected by global economic and political realities? What are the consequences of mass and sustained immigration on the broader culture in our nation? What kind of postures and dialogue will help churches and ministries extend the gospel, both to the immigrants they serve, and to those who do not agree with their methods?

Join us on January 27 for a day of biblical guidance, compassionate reflection, and credible presentations as we re-imagine our witness to foreigners, neighbors, and the rest of the world. The event includes presentations by Drs. Alexia Salvatierra and Danny Carroll, and a panel discussion with all presenters and special guest Mrs. Michelle Warren, moderated by President Dr. Mark Young.

Friday, January 27, 2023 | 8:00 a.m.–2:30 p.m. | Denver Seminary Chapel

DENVER SEMINARY NEWS

Now Enrolling: Certificate in Spiritual Direction

Did you know that Denver Seminary's Soul Care Initiative offers a one-year training in Spiritual Direction?

This Certificate in Spiritual Direction consists of quarterly seminary-level intensive classes, taught by Denver Seminary faculty and adjunct faculty. Students are introduced to the theology which undergirds Spiritual Direction, historical and ecumenical teachings on spiritual formation and soul care, the interplay of psychological understanding and Spiritual Direction, practices for the spiritual journey, skills necessary for the Spiritual Director, and much more! Each student continues to hone their attentiveness to the Holy Spirit and their personal skill through small practicum groups, which meet a couple times a month and are led by a trained Spiritual Direction Supervisor. This program can be completed primarily remotely, with the exception of required in-person attendance at the first two intensive classes.

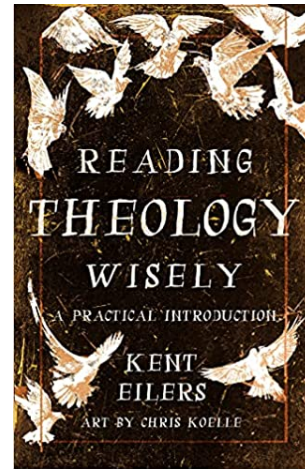

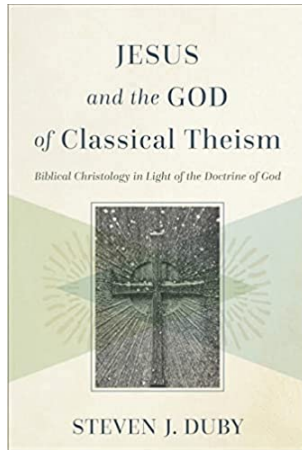

Email Program Coordinator, Stacey Cooper, at stacey.cooper@denverseminary.edu, for more information regarding our 2023–24 Cohort.

Constructing a Mediating Theology: Affirming the Impassibility and the Possibility of the Triune God

Dr. J. D Kim ('16),
Assistant Director, Doctor of Ministry Korean Track &
Adjunct Professor of Theology

Is God capable of being associated with suffering and of being moved by the world? How does the triune God of Scripture, who is both almighty and all love, respond to his beloved human creatures who were made in his image and yet who are now implicated in sin and suffering? Two major opposing theological views have been advanced in the course of describing God's response to suffering: divine impassibility and divine passibility.

Christ at the Center of Pastoral Ministry: The Difference Jesus Makes in Pastoral Theology, Spiritual Leadership, and Ministry Practices

Rev. Dr. Richard T. Vann,
Jr., Alumnus ('78)

Pastors and gospel ministers through the centuries have benefited from what the prophets and apostles penned in the Old and New Testaments and what pastoral theologians and pastors have taught and written that has been preserved. Christ at the Center of Pastoral Ministry looks to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith (Hebrews 12:2), and to the Holy Scriptures (2 Timothy 3:14-17) for a Christ-centered approach to pastoral theology, spiritual leadership, and ministry practices.

The Knowledge of God in the World and the Word: An Introduction to Classical Apologetics

Dr. Douglas Groothuis,
Professor of Philosophy,
and Dr. Andrew "Ike"
Shepardson, Alumnus ('10)

In The Knowledge of God in the World and the Word, authors Douglas Groothuis and Andrew Shepardson provide a simple introduction to classical apologetics that also addresses the most common objections to natural theology. Readers will discover in the book an easy point of entry into understanding why Christian beliefs about Jesus are true and rational. Further, the authors apply the power of classical apologetics to Christian ministry.
