JOB SUMMARY:

We are a small church with a small but growing student ministry, looking for someone passionate about the slow work of building relationships and trust with students, and while doing that, sensing where God is at work in their lives.

We are looking for a candidate who likes working with teenagers, has a high level of emotional intelligence, & who is not content with easy answers to the increasingly complex problems students deal with today.

While there is a small element of “run the event” in this job, we’re more looking for someone who can help students ask good questions, meet them in the messiness of their lives without providing pat answers, & who is hyper-relational in their approach to ministry.

Someone with a background or interest in psychology/counseling/spiritual direction would be considered a plus. Check out our church’s website for more information on who we are and what we value.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Run a once-a-week meeting for students (currently happening on Sunday mornings)
- Meet once-a-week with the lead pastor for check-in/mentoring
- Meet with 1-2 students throughout the week
- Plan 3 summer student events

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Commitment to personal spiritual growth
- Desire for vocational church ministry (preferred)
- In-line with The Porch's unique vision/values
- Capable of and comfortable with leading middle and high school students
- Driven toward theological convictions, but holds the non-essentials loosely
- Emotionally mature
- A learner
